

Note Attestation

WRS has a very strict policy against unsigned notes, under Legal Advice, to prevent any instance of note tampering. In extreme cases where the content is deemed to be detrimental to the patient or their care, as a courtesy, WRS will unsigned notes as a one-time instance.

The provider, by signing this document, attests that the note in question requires unsigned; the provider attests that the content of the note is detrimental to the patient or their care. The provider releases WRS of all legal liability of note tampering, and accepts full responsibility for the unsigned the note.
